

NO WAY TO LEARN NAMES IF "DUMMIES" ARE USED

Only by Other Persons Coming Forward Could Identity of Public Officials Be Revealed.

TESTIMONY IN "LEAK" INQUIRY

Every Broker Called On Says There Is No Individual in Public Life Among Their Customers—Tumultuous Recess Followed.

(By Associated Press.)—NEW YORK, February 14.—There is no way for the congressional committee investigating the "leak" on President Wilson's note to the belligerents to learn the names of officials who may have dealt in the stock market under other persons' names unless the "dummies" themselves come forward and give the information, the committee was told at its hearing today. The main purpose of the inquiry here, the committee has announced, is to get at officials if there are any who have been profiting by advance information as to the impending acts of the government.

Brooks Atkinson, broker, was asked to day whether there were any persons in official life in Washington among their customers and said one of these was James B. V. Stirling, of Logan & Rogan, in response to a question.

You might have the name of every customer of every broker in the United States and not discover such officials if they were dealing through a third party whose name alone appears as the customer.

NO DISCUSSION WITH TUMULTUOUS

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AT WASHINGTON

The name of Joseph P. Tumulty, President Wilson's secretary, was again brought into the inquiry, when James B. Rogan, hotel proprietor here, was asked the direct question whether or not during a visit of Tumulty here December 13 and 14, he gave Mr. Rogan any hint as to a prospective peace note.

He vaguely noted that he had received from Mr. Rogan, who added that he had no discussion with Mr. Tumulty regarding affairs at Washington, Mr. Rogan denied the rumor that he had dealt in United States Steel during the "leak" period.

The efforts of the committee to sit to the bottom the manner in which E. F. Hutton & Co., brokers, got their forecast of the Roosevelt note were baffled through the absence of Mr. Hutton and H. C. Barnes, members of the firm. George A. Ellis, another member, said they were in the South. It was pointed out by Sherrill L. Whipple, counsel for the committee, that the testimony of Mr. Hutton and Mr. Barnes as to that telegram was inaccurate, and that the conclusion was irresistible that Mr. Hutton knew that Mr. Connally was making ready to appear.

TUMULTUOUS AND BARRETT WILL NOT BE MADE TO APPEAR

The motion was made by a member of the committee that Mr. Barnes and Mr. Barrett be compelled to appear before it, but Mr. Whipple announced later such a step would not be taken. He added that Mr. Hutton and Mr. Barnes were the only persons who could straighten the matter out, and that the committee would resort with them as to whether their house should afford a hearing to the subject at hand.

Unless they appeared, he said, the committee was free to make whatever directions it could from the premises.

Sherrill L. Whipple, chairman of the public hearings, said he would return to the committee with his conclusions.

PUBLIC HEARINGS TO BE CLOSED TODAY

After an elaborate session tonight it was announced that the committee would close its public hearings tomorrow. Further work will be done to advantage, it was stated, which will consist of an examination of business documents of business organizations during the period under investigation.

In case anything is discovered by the committee to warrant repeating of the public hearings, that will be done, it was said, for the committee. It is not expected, however, that further hearings will be necessary.

The meeting was held behind closed doors. Afterwards Cardinal Gibbons was asked if he had changed his position on woman suffrage. He said,
